It appears to be that, (LupusDigit), is your password. Will possibly not know me and you are most likely wondering why you're getting this e-mail, right?

in fact, I setup a malware over the adult videos (adult) website and you know what, you visited this web site to have fun (you know what What i'm saying is). During the time you were watching videos, your internet browser started off operating like a RDP (Remote Desktop) which provided accessibility to your screen and webcam. from then on, my computer software obtained all of your contacts from the Messenger, Microsoft outlook, FB, in addition to emails.

What did I do?

I produced a double-screen video recording. 1st part shows the recording you are watching (you've got a good taste haha . . .), and Second part shows the recording of your web camera.

exactly what should you do?

Well, I think, $1000 is really a fair price for your little hidden secret. You'll make the payment by Bitcoin (if you don't know this, search "how to purchase bitcoin" search engines like google).

BTC Address: 1438v23rcweNzmD7C5tuu6oKACHVuqy9sX
(It is case sensitive, so copy and paste it)

Very important:

You've got one day to make the payment. (I've a unique pixel in this e-mail, and at this moment I know that you've read this email message). If I don't get the BitCoins, I will certainly send your videos to all of your contacts including family, colleagues, and so on. Having said that, if I get the payment, I'll destroy the recording immediately. If you want evidence, reply with "Yes!" and I will undoubtedly send out your video recording to your 6 contacts. It is a non-negotiable offer, that being said don't waste my personal time and yours by answering this message.
